

DIRECTOR FOR THE ADVANCED EDUCATION PROGRAM IN PROSTHODONTICS

The School of Dentistry at the University of Southern California invites applications from qualified candidates for the position of Director of the Advanced Education Program in Prosthodontics.

Candidates must have a DDS/DMD and be Board Certified by the American Board of Prosthodontics. Preference will be given to candidates with a PhD or equivalent and a strong history of successful extramural research funding and/or peer-reviewed scholarship. The successful individual will be expected to align the mission and activities of the Advanced Program in Prosthodontics with the strategic plans for the School of Dentistry and the University of Southern California. This includes the establishment of a vigorous academic program of high-quality interdisciplinary research, participation in learner-centered education at the predoctoral and postgraduate levels, and creation of programs of research and education that utilize and contribute to the special characteristics of Southern California and Los Angeles as a center of urban issues.

Interested applicants should send a complete curriculum vitae, statement of teaching and research interests, and at least three letters of reference to: Dean Harold Slavkin, USC School of Dentistry, 925 W. 34th Street, DEN 203, Los Angeles, CA 90089-0641.

Consideration of applicants will begin immediately and will continue until the position is filled.

The University of Southern California values diversity and is committed to equal opportunity in employment.
