

CALL FOR VOLUNTEERS

Network with fellow archivists, librarians and historians while participating in an exciting one-of-a-kind community event

LA as Subject presents The 4th Annual Archives Bazaar 2009

Where: University of Southern California-
Davidson Executive Conference Center
When: Saturday, October 17, 2009
Time: 10:00 a.m. - 5:00 p.m.

The Archives Bazaar-- brought to you by the L.A. as Subject Archives Forum & the USC Libraries-- is an annual event that features educational programming, film screenings, author panels, and exhibits of local historical and archive collections from universities, public libraries, community-based organizations, artists, and private collectors.

This opportunity is perfect for those interested in the fields of library science, archives, history, and the social sciences. Volunteers will be asked to staff exhibitor booths during breaks, provide general information to the visitors, assist with the special presentation events, and act as liaison between the exhibitors and main Archives Bazaar coordinators.

FREE PARKING AND FOOD WILL BE INCLUDED FOR ALL VOLUNTEERS.

Requirements: Interest in Los Angeles history and documentation -- *Be able to commit 3 hours on the day of the event -- Enthusiastic

*Can't make the date? Volunteers are also needed to help distribute flyers and posters in local venues before the event.

For more information about volunteering, please contact Jackie Zak at jacquelinezak@aol.com
