Re: Joining of Drs. Henry Sucov and Mohammad to the Broad Center for Regenerative Medicine and Stem Cell Research

I am delighted to announce that as of November 1, 2009, Drs. Henry Sucov and Mohammad (Mani) Pashmforoush and their research teams will join the Broad Center for Regenerative Medicine and Stem Cell Research.

These two investigators bring enormous expertise in the area of heart development and cardiac progenitor cells to our Center.

Cardiovascular medicine is a major focus for efforts in regenerative medicine and a real area of clinical research strength within the Keck School.

We all welcome Drs. Sucov and Pashmforoush and we look forward to working with them.
